

by callum&mark

A guide to Mole Hills

small natural history series

Following the success of the first 'short book' series, callum&mark have turned their creative eyes on the marvels of the natural world. One of them can play the violin amazingly well now, and they both whistle. In addition to writing books, callum directs and produces stop-motion films, and mark is very enthusiastic about small wiggly things. This book could not have been produced without the enthusiasm for life of small acorns and other seeds.

number 11 of a natural history series download the set from <http://www.badenyon.org/callummark>

a short book
from tiny acorns mighty stories grow
may be reproduced freely

published
randomly, with love

by
callum&mark

portobello&leith
edinburgh

as the act directs

2007

Peatfold, 02 | 2007

page 1